TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14.
REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For Governor, JEREMIAH RUSK, of Vernon.
For Lieutenant Governor, GEORGE W. RYLAND, of Grant.
For Secretary of State, GEORGE W. RYLAND, of Grant.
For State Treasurer, H. D. HARRIS, of Winnebago.
For Attorney General, CHAS. E. ESTABROOK, of Manitowish.
For Railroad Commissioner, ATLEY PETERSON, of Crawford.
For State Superintendent, J. B. TRAXEL, of Pierce.
For Insurance Commissioner, PHIL CHESER, of Sauk.

Miss Mary Reynolds, of Milwaukee, a graduate of the Western department of the Chicago Medical college, has been appointed one of the assistant physicians of the Northern hospital. This is the first appointment of a lady to a position of this kind at the institution. Her appointment is a step in the right direction.

It is recorded that the number of Union soldiers captured by the Confederates during the rebellion was 212,608. The number of Confederates captured by the Union troops was 470,109. The number of the Union troops who died while prisoners was 29,735, or a little more than one in seven of all captured. The number of Confederates who died in prison was 29,774, or very nearly one in eighteen.

THE DEFEAT OF BRAGG.
General Bragg's personal enemy has won a victory which strikes deep at the feelings of the little general. After taking 216 ballots in the congressional convention at Washington, a Washington county delegate deserted O'Mara and went over to Delaney, which gave the latter the nomination.

The outcome of this convention will surprise the public, for it was not deemed possible that either Bragg or Delaney could receive the nomination. But unfortunately for Bragg he had a false friend in the convention, and at a time when the general had the strongest hope that he might defeat the machine, this political Judas betrayed him, and the man above all others that he hoped to see sink into defeat was crowned with victory. This was one of the bitterest defeats General Bragg has ever experienced. It is a hundred times worse than that of four years ago because at that time there was no disgraceful bargain haunting him in defeat and besides a personal friend received the nomination. But now the memories of a dishonorable sale of political influence and the victory of a personal enemy fill his mind and make the result of the convention all the more galling.

The opinion will generally prevail that the Second district convention did an unwise thing in nominating Delaney. If one of the parties to the bargain and sale of two years ago had to be nominated, it should have been Bragg. He has ten times the ability of Delaney, has a national reputation, and can do something in congress, whereas Delaney is a man of ordinary ability, and will never rise above the standard of a scheming politician.

General Bragg is exceedingly unfortunate in his political career. He is a man of splendid attainments, and if he had unshaken political integrity he would reach one of the highest positions in congress. But he looks moral force, and thinks that trafficking and dickering in public office is the legitimate business of a democratic congressman. He has received his reward, and Delaney should have received his in the same kind that fell to Bragg. This would have been a commendation of the attempt to sell the votes of the district at such a price as such men as Bragg and Delaney might see fit to put upon them.

A FLATTERING COMPLIMENT.
The New York Evening Post is a mugwump paper. It rarely ever says anything good of a republican official, and so far this year it has not seen fit to endorse the action of any republican state convention, except that of Wisconsin. What it does say is well worth reading and remembering in these times when party platforms, as a rule, say a good deal and mean very little. Here is the Post's article:

"The republican state convention of Wisconsin was a very notable gathering, and the platform adopted by it is one of the best, if not the very best, of the present year. The decisive tone of its declarations against the aristocratic doctrine, that led to the Milwaukee riots leaves nothing to be desired, and contrasts favorably with the timid utterances of the Illinois republicans on the same subject. The same strong language runs through the whole discourse. We note the absence of the 'bloody shirt,' and in place of it the honest statement, 'that while their devotion to the principles upon which their party was founded, and for which it has so gloriously and successfully contended, is undiminished, it recognizes the fact that in the progress of society new conditions and new questions are constantly arising which it is the duty of political parties to meet and attempt to settle in the manner most conducive to public welfare.' We note also the absence of any plank in favor of the present tariff or of any protective tariff. Nor is there any game of false pretenses with the liquor question. The republicans of Wisconsin say exactly what they mean on this subject, and what they say is true that we commend it to all politicians, both republican and democratic, who are in trouble about their platform."

Send on Your Orders for Nickels.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The treasury department has of late received numerous demands for 5-cent nickels and 1-cent pieces. To meet these demands the secretary of the treasury has issued a circular announcing that 5-cent nickels and 1-cent pieces will be forwarded from the mint on account of the treasury's dissatisfaction with its course in regard to the matters, which have been made the basis of charges against the treasury.

Arrested for Stealing Sixty Thousand.
CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Meyer Brudenbach, a salesman in Abraham's auctioneer establishment, was arrested Monday afternoon on a charge of appropriating $60,000 to his own use which belonged to other parties. It is said that while doing a pawnbroking business in Philadelphia he bought goods to the amount of $60,000 on credit and left the city taking with him his entire stock. The prisoner will be held until the arrival of Philadelphia officers.

THE WAY MAINE WENT.

REPUBLICANS CLAIM A PLURALITY OF TWELVE THOUSAND.

All the Republican Congressmen Elected and a Big Majority in the Legislature—Small Prohibition Vote—Delaney Wins the Wisconsin Fight—Phil Sheridan Proposed for President.

PORTLAND, Sept. 14.—The state election took place Monday, and the republican party has carried the day. The significance of the election lay in the efforts of the prohibitionists to defeat the republican candidates, and the conspicuous appearance of Mr. Blaine in the campaign. As a matter of fact it is recognized that the outcome of the contest may materially affect the prospects for 1888 as well as the relations of the ex-senator to the presidential campaign, which will occur in that year. The campaign has every respect been a heated one. The labor element made war on a score of retiring members of the legislature with such effect that all but four were defeated for re-election. Then St. John, Neal Dow and Blaine appeared simultaneously upon the stump, and the brains of the voters have been fairly added by the variety of appeals addressed to them. The candidates for governor were: Joseph R. Bodwell, Rep.; Clark S. Edwards, Dem.; Angus C. Smith, Prohibition; Esau, Dingy; Millican and Boutelle were nominated by the Republicans for the four congressional places. The Democrats put W. H. Clifford, Alonzo Garcelon, J. E. Ladd, and S. F. Lynch; the Prohibitionists, P. D. Hussey, W. B. Rust, E. H. Harvey and C. S. Pitcher, while the labor party nominated for the First, Second and Third districts D. O. Moulton, W. T. Rustis and J. E. Ladd, respectively.

The aggregate gubernatorial vote in 1884, with which comparisons are made, was 142,107, divided as follows: Republican, 73,809; Democratic, 58,844; Prohibition, 1,151; Greenback, 3,333; scattering, 60.

In 1882, the vote was as follows: Republican, 123,473; divided as follows: Republican, 72,481; Fusion, 68,921; Prohibition, 331; Greenback, 1,384; Independent Republican, 20; scattering, 102.

Results of Monday's election are incomplete as yet, but 238 towns are in and they give Bodwell, 45,583; Edwards, 30,071; Clark, 2,673. In 1884 they gave Bodwell, 55,830; Edwards, 34,809; Prohibition, 949; Greenback, 2,033; scattering, 9.

The ratio of loss in towns yet to be heard from will give the following vote: Republican, 85,500; Democrats, 55,300; Prohibition, 3,000.

The legislature will probably stand: Senate, 35 Republicans, 3 Democrats, against a complete repeal of the prohibition law. The House will give an equal proportion in the house, but the Republicans will have a handsome majority.

Chairman Manley's Estimate.
AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 14.—Chairman Manley of the Republican state committee announces that the election has resulted in a larger republican majority than was expected, and the largest given in the state for the past fifteen years, except in presidential years. He says: "The figures indicate (at P. M. and last night) that the republican vote is about 100,000 out of a total of 150,000. The total vote of the state will be over 180,000, remarkably large for an off year. The third party will only aggregate 3,000 out of this."

All four republican candidates for congress from the state have handsome majorities. Bodwell's majority will be 1,300. It was only 925 in 1884.

Some County Returns.
AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 14.—Kennebec county elected the entire republican ticket by about 3,200 plurality. Milken, for congress, will have about 4,000 majority.

Piscataquis county elects the republican ticket entire by about 500 majority.

LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 14.—In this county (Androscoggin), the complete vote is: Bodwell, 4,340; Edwards, 3,076; Clark, 570. The largest vote is for Bodwell, 1,448. For congress Bodwell (Rep.) has 1,938; Lynch (Dem.), 1,173. The entire republican county ticket, with the possible exception of sheriff, is elected.

DAIRY, Me., Sept. 14.—The vote in Sagadahoc county shows about 1,200 plurality for Bodwell and 1,300 plurality for Dingley (Rep.) for congress (Second district). B. F. Hanchley (Rep.) is elected senator by 1,100 plurality. The republican majority is about 400.

DAKOTA, Me., Sept. 14.—The entire republican county ticket and Marble (Rep.) for senator are elected. The representative delegation will stand, five Republicans and one Democrat. This county (Lincoln) gives Bodwell nearly 450 plurality.

A Boom for Little Phil.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—When a local newspaper published an interview with Cover Michael, Col. Michael, an Irish householder of New York, who named Gen. Phil Sheridan for the republican nomination for the presidency, politicians put their hands to their sides to represent their laughter. But they do not laugh now. There is sober, serious talk about the suggestion, and in the minds of many it may take shape. The men in the party who do not like Blaine—and they are many here where the politicians are—would, they say, gladly take Sheridan, and those who are most ardent for the Plumed Knight, seem to think that rather than see their favorite defeated by an old candidate, they would also take Sheridan, whom they liken more to Grant than any living man. So the general of the army may loom up as a candidate.

Delaney Gets the Nomination.
JANESVILLE, Wis., Sept. 14.—At 8 o'clock Monday evening the Democratic congressional convention was called to order. On the 21st ballot Delaney was nominated by a vote of 15 to 13 for O'Mara. The nomination was secured by the default of Delaney's friends, who had been expected to vote for O'Mara. The nomination was then introduced and made some feeble remarks, acknowledging the compliment, after which the convention adjourned.

New Public Printer Fills His Bond.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The bond of Mr. Thomas E. Benedict, government printer, was approved Monday by the auditing general of the interior department, and the commission issued. Mr. Benedict will take charge of his office at once.

What has Been Done Here and Elsewhere.

Minis' on the Crop—Early Frost—English Tobacco Culture.

JANESVILLE.

There have been quite a number of sales during the week but they were mostly small lots. The leaf that is being disposed of is not of the finer grades, although there are some sales of wrapper reported.

The crop this year is much better than was expected. The reduction of acreage also proves to be much less than at first calculated upon and the damage done by hail will be slight. Even some fields as that of H. G. Carter, fields that were "all cut to pieces, not a sound leaf left," will average about one third of a crop; and on those that were not directly in the path of the storm the damage is hardly noticeable. There have been one or two light frosts, but none heavy enough to hurt the growing plants to any considerable extent.

Edgerton.—The market is still very quiet, old leaf especially moving very slowly. The crop is being harvested and makes a very good appearance. It will be much larger and of considerably better quality than was at first expected. Some cases leaf has been looked over during this week and the bulk of it appears to be of very good quality. White mould, which has appeared in one or two packages, is the only drawback yet discovered.

Stoughton.—Our reports from this point indicate that since the drought was broken the tobacco has grown finely and prospects are now quite favorable. No sales have been made during the week.

Wisconsin leaf did not hold a very prominent place in the New York market last week. As will be seen the sales were small, and one of the tobacco papers of that city in giving a table of prices places Wisconsin and low-grade Pennsylvania together each commanding from seven to ten cents. The only crop that ranged lower in price was the Ohio which consists to a considerable extent of fillers.

A new experiment is being tried in England this year, it being simply an attempt to raise tobacco for the manufacture of cigars. The land selected was not good being low over gravel but it was heavily manured. The plants were set in ridges on the 16th of June and topping commenced on August 9th. On August 21st the tallest of the plants were about three feet high there being, however, a great difference in the heights of the varieties. Out of the seventeen varieties tried the only three that can be grown in that climate are Havana, Yellow Prior and Broad Maryland as the leaf must be cut by the early frost. So far the results of the trial are not encouraging to those who believe in tobacco growing in England.

On the farm of Robert T. Broom, near Sheffield, Connecticut, an experiment is being tried which, if successful, will make a considerable change in tobacco culture. The plants are set in rows two and one half feet apart with fifteen inches between each plant. Instead of topping in the usual way, Mr. Broom nipped off the extreme top of each plant. From this snappers sprouted, they being now in blossom. It is said that the growth of these snappers prevents the sprouting of any from the lower part of the plant and thus saves the labor of suckering. The claim is that it will also materially improve the texture. There has been no trouble whatever regarding the ripening, in fact most of the crop is now housed and is the finest that has been raised on the land for many years. The success of Mr. Broom's experiment will not be assured, however, until the leaf has gone through the sweat. If it stands that ordeal well, then some reliance may be placed upon the idea.

NEW YORK CITY.
New Pennsylvania and new State made most important roles this week. The large manufacturing firm took 1,500 cases of new Pennsylvania, while another manufacturer purchased 700 cases of new State. Several jobbers also invested in state, and as a whole, the favors were about equally divided. To this may be added aggregating about 100 cases of new Pennsylvania, 250 cases of new Ohio and 300 cases of new Wisconsin. As a primary cause for this, the visibly inferior quality of the new Sumatra, serves—United States Tobacco Journal.

NEW YORK.
The new crop is fast going into the sheds, and at the present time very little but late leaf tobacco still remains in the field. Our 1886 crop is a good one and should bring a good price.—Baltimore Gazette.

CONNECTICUT VALLEY.
During last week most of the remaining tobacco crop has been harvested. We have never seen a wonder crop hung on the pole. We haven't seen a single plant showing rust this season.—American Cultivator.

OHIO.
There is brisk inquiry for old goods of all varieties and sales are beginning to take pace with the demand. Zimmer's Spanish and Little Dutch leaf, the market is ranging at 7 to 12¢, while Seed grades close to 6¢.

There is some reason to believe that
